SUPERINTENDENT'S CORNER

February was a month of extremes weather-wise at The Club at Colony Creek. We started the month with a majority of dormant grass across the course after the snowfall in January. However, that was short lived as we hit some abnormally high temperatures early this month. Things greened up rather quickly, and it made for some great golf conditions on the course, until another arctic blast in the middle of the month slowed things down once again. We are looking forward to warmer weather in March, and a chance to further prepare for the growing season as it approaches. We have another round of pre-emergent applications that we will be making to help our fight against the pesky weeds that have plagued the course. Tournament season is starting to ramp up as well with some college and high school teams hosting events here at the course as well. Aerification will be here before we know it, along with our usual greens aerification. We are putting some plans in place to do some different types of aerification to our tees and fairways as well. One of the biggest complaints I hear about the course is how hard our tees can be, and we will be working to battle that issue. This will help us to improve our current conditions and start growing grass in our weaker and thinner areas. It should be another great month at The Club at Colony Creek and we can't wait to see you out there!
